

The FCC should not limit coverage extended to us by Indiana's Telephone Privacy Law. Our household is much more peaceful without unsolicited phone calls. We used to receive at least 5 calls per day and if the phone was not answered, there were many hang ups on the machine. With 2 young children at home, we find the quiet time much more enjoyable and do not want to lose the privilege we have been afforded. This law is very important to our home and family life.
